

Ancient History A-Level Prep

A good preparation for your Ancient History A-level is to research what life was like in Ancient Greece and Persia. Make knowledge organisers about what life was like in Ancient Athens, Sparta and the Persian Empire:-

These links might help to start off with but you can use any other material you can find:-

The British museum has an excellent virtual tour where you can find objects from the time:

And don't forget to try to find primary source material as well! There's plenty of it online but try Herodotus and Thucydides as starting points.
